

Nice to meet you, too.	You're welcome.	Sounds like fun.
No, I don't. I like P.E.	No, I can't, but I can ski.	No, I'm not. I'm from S.F.
I walk to school.	I'm writing a letter.	He's twenty years old.
He looks happy.	I want to go to Italy.	I have a headache.

It's mine.	She speaks English.	Sorry, I'm reading it.
Sorry, I'm busy now.	It means "mix."	I get up at six thirty.
She likes volleyball.	He has two rackets.	I want to be a doctor.
I'm good at dancing.	I saw fireworks.	He lives in Cebu.

Nice to meet you.

Thank you very much.

We have a party today.

Do you like English?

Can you snowboard?

Are you from L.A.?

How do you
come to school?

What are you doing?

How old is Takuya?

How does he look?

Where do you want to go?

What's wrong?

Whose bike is this?	Which does she speak, English or Japanese?	Can I borrow this book?
Can you read this to me?	What does halo-halo mean?	What time do you get up?
What sport does she like?	How many rackets does he have?	What do you want to be?
What are you good at?	What did you see there?	Where does Takuya live?
